NMHOA's President Tim Sheahan Welcomes You to i'mPOWERED!

Welcome to the first installment of NMHOA's

Ask Ishbel

Q. What is "Ask Ishbel" all about?

A. This will be an opportunity for NMHOA members to pose questions to our Executive Director about issues related to manufactured housing. Ishbel has more than 26 years of experience working with and for manufactured home owners locally, and at the state and national level. She will do her best to answer your questions and provide you with additional resources if need be. Ishbel looks forward to receiving your questions. Please email her at: ishbel@nmhoa.org

Does just reading the word "fundraising" give you a chill?

According to the 2013 U.S. Census Bureau the average cost of a new single-wide manufactured home is $42,200 ($38.36/square foot). The average cost of a new site built home is $324,500 ($93.70/square foot).

Banding Together for Change – This is the unifying theme for NMHOA's Annual Convention to be held in Seattle, WA, from November 13 – 15.

You are not alone. Many people respond negatively to the thought of asking another for money. Why, you ask? Is it fear of rejection, a sense that talking about money is a taboo subject, or simply that they are not themselves invested enough in the organization for which they want support to feel confident in their "ask"? Whatever the reason, hopefully this article will allay anxiety and encourage you to "give" and "ask" for money joyfully.
